THE STORY

Sadler, a man who fights for life with a belief in himself. Everything derives from nature. Mankind, too, enjoys the benevolent influence of nature in his life. But he has no way to cope once nature becomes violent with storms, floods, cold spells or other of nature's extremes. Mankind has perceived the ultimate power in the wonder of Nature. Presumably because he is attracted to the ultimate power, mankind has started to think that power determines everything. In this way the history of mankind has turned out to be a history of war. In wars, each country on each side believes that it is right and tends to justify killing as a way of fulfilling its objectives. Throughout history, people have taken sides for their own benefit. Countries with more power have conquered those with less power, again and again, until one has emerged as the superpower.

One day, the superpower was destroyed in a revolt led by Sadler, wandering desert warrior, and the blazing desert returned to the peace it had once enjoyed.

However, that peace did not last long. Sadler was once again drawn into war in the desert heat. The military of Luciel, a rival country, launched an indiscriminate attack on his land. Sadler has stood up again to defeat the Luciel military.

The story begins at a fortress where the elite troops of the army headed by Sadler, hero of EXILE, gather for tactics near the village.

A VILLAGE IN THE DUNES

The villagers originally refused to go to war and loved peace. In the more recent past, however, they were forced to enter war and finally realized that they had to fight for peace. Then they started learning how to wage wars for peace and appeared to terminate the evil ambitions wherever unjustified war occurred.

Among the villagers, Sadler has the greatest skills in swordsmanship and is idolized by them.

Those who believe in their own way of life encounter each other, fight and create adventure.

Sadler, desert warrior, came from the village in the dunes. His fight capability is equal to that of more than a hundred soldiers. Reportedly nobody has ever managed to escape his pursuit.

Elite warriors seeking the Holimax!

CHARACTER INTRODUCTION

Rumi: Agent of the Village in the Dunes who is endowed with fluency in eight languages as well as a light body skilled in acrobatics.

Kindi: Trainer of soldiers who is equipped with such unfathomable power that reportedly he has never used his fighting abilities to their full extent in spite of his ever-victorious record.

Fakil: Magician of the Village of the Dunes whose powerful spells defeat enemies no matter which weapon they use. At Sadler's departure, Fakil lends him the magic stone of Kamul. Commander of Dune Cavalry. This Cavalry was originally assigned to support Luciel Forces. Since the Forces became nothing but a group committed to violence, the Cavalry revolted and started its fight to eliminate its former ally.

A wandering minstrel of the Camu unit, side kick of the Dune Cavalry. A figure with a mystic atmosphere surrounding his existence.

A priest who was deported because his preaching remained faithful to the teachings of the Shinso Sect. However, he continues to devote himself to the sect without changing his belief.

MAGIC

The choice of magic greatly influences the development of your game!

Each type of magic consumes a certain number of points and cannot be used if it requires more than the points at hand as shown in the MP gauge. The player will open the window in the action screen and select magic. Once you start using magic, it will work until you stop using it. Check the MP gauge regularly.

- For offense, there are two types of magic: Fire and Ice, both in three levels. Fire exerts with pressure of sword forward. Ice causes damage to all enemies on the screen. Each swing of the sword requires a certain MP.

- The magic Restoration keeps HP at a maximum. Since the frequent use of magic uses up MP quickly after suffering substantial damage, the use of the magic as a substitute for medicine is recommended.

Short suggestion/guideline - Important messages and items appear on the action screen. There are many doors in action scenes. Don't forget the door which you have passed through; otherwise you will never be able to move to other places. Defeat enemies, scoring (increasing points) and collecting gold, then head for your destination. Look for persons with important messages and hidden treasure chests.

- Press the "up" side of D Button to pass through a door when the character comes to its front.

FIRE

Throws pressure from the sword on each enemy and causes them damage. It has three levels:

Level:	Required MP:	Effect:
1	6	loss of 10 points by enemy
2	12	loss of 30 points by enemy
3	18	loss of 50 points by enemy

ICE

Generates a big chill and causes all enemies damage:

Level:	Required MP:	Effect:
1	8	loss of 10 points by enemy
2	16	loss of 30 points by enemy
3	24	loss of 50 points by enemy

Restoration

Recovers HP. You can recover the same amount of HP as there is MP at hand. This magic keeps being activated until the MP at hand is reduced to zero unless you cancel the magic.

* In the above three types of magic, the ceiling of each levels varies depending upon each stage.

Warp

You can warp at an entrance in action scenes other than the Boss' room. It is not available in RPG mode.

TOOLS

Tonics

Just as useful as Weapons and Shieldings. You can buy tonics at pharmacies in towns or villages and pick them up treasure chests in the "action" mode.
